To whom it may concern,

I have XM Satellite radio in my truck, and I drive on long trips or cross country quite often. That being said, it is wonderful to be able to have traffic and weather for the area I'm going to available at the touch of a button, and not having to search for an FM station, then hope and wait for 20 minutes for a report. Satellite radio has other benefits, such as when I'm travelling in an area with weak FM signals, and the fact that I can drive cross country without changing the station or having to listen to music I don't like because that's all that comes in. I am paying for my XM Satellite service, therefore, I don't see how these groups can regulate what I want to listen to. I am urging you to consider rejecting the NAB's petition 04-160 so that I may be able to continue receiving these services.

Thank You,
Curt Stechert
